

PERFORMANCE RANKINGS

Houston-based oil-services firm Veritas DGC was the hottest stock of the '90s, with a sizzling 146% annualized return for the past 8½ years. But the top performers list was dominated by companies that rode the decade's technology and financial services boom. The 19 tech winners ranged from big names like Dell Computer (up 103% a year) and Microsoft (up 56%) to less familiar ones like Recoton (up 47%), a Florida firm that supplies electronic equipment for audio systems, which was also one of the best
